

SuspensionWerx 25-06-2012 :

Quickly approaching the one year anniversary of the delivery of our DO Engineering Vacuum Fill Machine, it has been, since day one, an indispensable addition to our business.

Cleaner than a bench-top bleed, significant oil savings compared to a submerged bleed, and notable time savings compared to either. Most importantly, we can guarantee the best possible performance and a 100% air-free bleed on every shock, and fork cartridge, we service.

We have very discerning customers, riding challenging, technically demanding, terrain (often in adverse weather conditions) and DO Engineering helps us to provide them with a notable after-service improvement in their suspension performance.
